

Curriculum Vitae

About me:

I am a qualified Graphic and Web Designer currently freelancing full-time at Jess Cook Design, where I design and develop websites in Wordpress, and undertake a variety of print work for a range of clients and companies.

If you're interested I went to:

University of Plymouth / 2007-2010

BA Hons: Graphic Communication with Typography:
Identity and Branding - 2:1

Plymouth College of Art and Design / 2006-2007

Level 3 Foundation Studies - Merit
AS-Level Art History - A

Plymouth High School for Girls / 1999-2006

3 A-Levels / 10 GCSEs

I have worked for:

Formoda Ltd / November 2015 - March 2016

I worked for Formoda as a Senior Graphic Designer. I was tasked with designing for a wide spectrum of both print and digital outputs for a range of clients and industries, whilst working closely with the Account Management team. I also oversaw some of the work of other designers on the team.

e-Strategy Ltd / July 2013 - November 2015

My work at e-Strategy as a Designer included the design of websites, apps and implementing marketing strategies for a range of clients, with a focus on hospitality and tourism industries. I was also responsible for designing presentations, brochures and internal marketing for the company and its products.

Spoton.net / July 2010 - July 2013

I started working for Spoton.net as a Junior Designer straight after completing university. I progressed to Middleweight Designer resulting in increased responsibility, mainly comprising of designing websites using a content management system (CMS) whilst following a brief supplied by a franchisee. Other responsibilities included styling of websites using HTML and CSS and client and franchisee training.

Company of Designers England / Sept - Dec 2009

I undertook a two week placement with CODE which led to a further two months freelance work alongside finishing my degree.
